QUESTAR ISSUES CLARIFICATION OF AP STORY

SALT LAKE CITY — Questar Corp. (NYSE:STR) today said an Associated Press story distributed Tuesday, July 6, erroneously stated that the Salt Lake City-based natural gas company was in a partnership with Dell Inc. to market Linux-based desktop computers in Europe. The AP subsequently corrected the story to indicate that another company named Questar – identified as “a virtual unit company focusing on software sales” – was partnering with Dell in the European venture. The Utah-based Questar is an integrated natural gas company with $4 billion in enterprise value.
